

UPPSALA
UNIVERSITET

We invite you to a mini-symposium to celebrate

Professor Gene E. Likens

President Emeritus, Cary Institute of Ecosystem Studies, Millbrook, New York, USA

In January 2018, Professor Likens will receive an honorary doctorate from Uppsala University. To celebrate his outstanding contributions to research in ecology and biogeochemistry, we invite you to a mini-symposium to be held :

Wednesday January 24th, 2018
Friessalen, Evolutionary Biology Centre
Uppsala University, Uppsala, Sweden

(Entrance 14, Ground Floor <http://www.ebc.uu.se/Find+EBC/>)

For more information about Professor Likens' research, please see:

<http://www.caryinstitute.org/science-program/our-scientists/dr-gene-e-likens>

Please register by Jan 16th, 2018 with an email to sebastian.sobek@ebc.uu.se using 'Likens mini-symposium' in the subject header

- |             |                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|-------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 13.00-13.15 | Professor Eva Lindström , EBC, Mini-symposium ChairProfessor Lars Tranvik , EBC, Uppsala University, SwedenIntroductory Remarks                                    |
| 13.15-13.45 | Professor Lars Hedin , Princeton, New Jersey, USA'Reconciling Evolution and Ecosystems in Building the Biosphere'                                                             |
| 13.45-14.15 | Professor Emily Bernhardt , Duke University, Durham, North Carolina, USA'The ecosystem as a palimpsest: layered trajectories of change in the Hubbard Brook Forest Ecosystem' |
| 14.15-14.45 | Fika (Coffee Break) / Poster Session                                                                                                                                                            |
| 14.45-15.15 | Professor Daniel Conley , Lund University, Lund, Sweden'Challenging the Norm: Hubbard Brook and the Global Si Cycle'                                                          |
| 15.15-15.45 | Professor Carl Folke , Stockholm Resilience Centre, Sweden'Ecosystems and People: Providing the Foundation'                                                                   |
| 15.45-16.00 | Professor Gene Likens , President Emeritus, Cary Institute, New York, USAClosing Remark                                                                                       |
| 16.00       | Poster Session*/Snacks                                                                                                                                                                          |

*Information Regarding the Poster Session

The poster session will include presentations of research focusing on ecosystem studies by early career scientists.

If you would like to submit a poster, please send a title and abstract (max. 250 words) to sebastian.sobek@ebc.uu.se by January 16th, 2018.